Young engineers key role in national building stressed

Main News Service
Kolkata

Young engineers should play a key role in building a national building, stressed Union Minister for Skill Development and Entrepreneurship, Nirmala Sitharaman, on Monday. She participated in the annual general meeting of the All India Engineering Students' Association (AIESA) at the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Bombay. She stressed the need for young engineers to take up the challenge of building a national building, and stressed the need for young engineers to take up the challenge of building a national building.
